Cincinnati black-owned beauty supply store uplifts and serves its community through ministry All Together Lovely Beauty Supply (ATL) is a “biznistry” – a business with a ministry intent. It is a Cincinnati black-owned beauty supply store that sells retail and professional hair care products. Their ministry provides ethnic hair care education for bi-racial foster care, adoptive parents and caregivers. Their mission is to provide hair and skin care products for every member of your family, regardless of what your family looks like. ATL partners with local families, foster care professionals and adoption organizations to aid and educate potential parents and/or respite caregivers. Ethnic hair care classes are monthly and everyone is welcome to attend these multi-segment training classes. Also, sessions are a combination of lecture, practical application and interactive practice in an open, honest, and safe environment. ATL provides personal service, premium quality products and superior experience. Their “online to door” service allows purchase orders exceeding $35, placed prior to noon, to be delivered or picked up in the store the same day. Patrons may make a monetary donation, place an order online or call 513-445-2502. About All Together Lovely Beauty Supply All Together Lovely Beauty Supply is the result of a dream from Priscella Bonwell and her daughter, Charisse. Growing up around beauty, hair care, and her mother’s beauty salon as a child, Charisse has always possessed a passion for helping women. This black-owned beauty supply store strives to strengthen the image of beauty for all nationalities through hair care education, products, and consultation. ATL provides clients access to premium quality beauty and hair care products, and education in a professional, comfortable environment. Furthermore, they specialize in relaxed hair, all-natural hair, wigs, weaves, extensions, hair accessories and more. For three generations, ATL’s passion has instilled a wealth of self-esteem into children.
