Upgrade your next celebration with a paint experience from Black-owned paint party company Soul Palette. Soul Palette creates customized paint party experiences to celebrate any occasion. Their business concept is mobile, so they bring the paint experience to your preferred location. Whether it is social, cultural, educational or ministry focused, they do it all. Soul Palette was founded in the winter of 2016 by Co-Owners, Brandon & Ewaniki Hawkins. The husband and wife team leveraged their unique skill sets to birth the business when they discovered a gap in the market. Brandon Hawkins is the Lead Artist of Soul Palette with more than 20 years of artistic expertise. He graduated from the University of Cincinnati with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Africana Studies and a certificate in Fine Arts. Brandon has been passionate about art since his youth. He considers drawing, painting and graphic design to be some of his best talents. He also currently serves as the Visual Arts instructor for Elementz and recently finished a large-scale mural project with Artworks. Brandon’s dreams have become a reality with the opportunity to use his gifts and talents every day to empower others to find their inner artist. Ewaniki Moore-Hawkins is the Operations Manager of Soul Palette with more than 15 years in management. She graduated from the University of Cincinnati with a Master of Business Administration and had majored in Marketing and Entrepreneurship in her undergraduate years. She handles the client booking, talent management and ensures that all details are efficiently handled. Ewaniki also serves as the Director of the African American Cultural & Resource Center at the University of Cincinnati. She is ultimately passionate about helping others identify their purpose and reach their highest potential. Soul Palette has experienced significant growth in their two and half-year existence. The company has had the opportunity to work with corporations such as P&G, Macy’s and the Cincinnati Visitors Bureau. Soul Palette has also provided paint experiences for almost every university in the Cincinnati/NKy area.
